

STEP LOCK

When it has to work.

Your property has just been upgraded!

Soon you will be able to use your mobile phone as a digital key to be able to unlock doors in your property.

This is what you need to do:

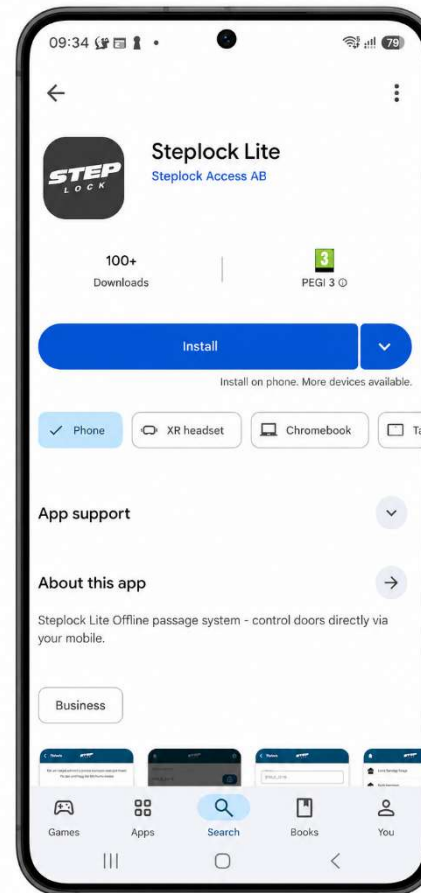

- Install the StepLock Lite app.
- Create an account in the app.
- To access the doors, the administrator needs to invite you with the email address you created the account with.

When it has to work.

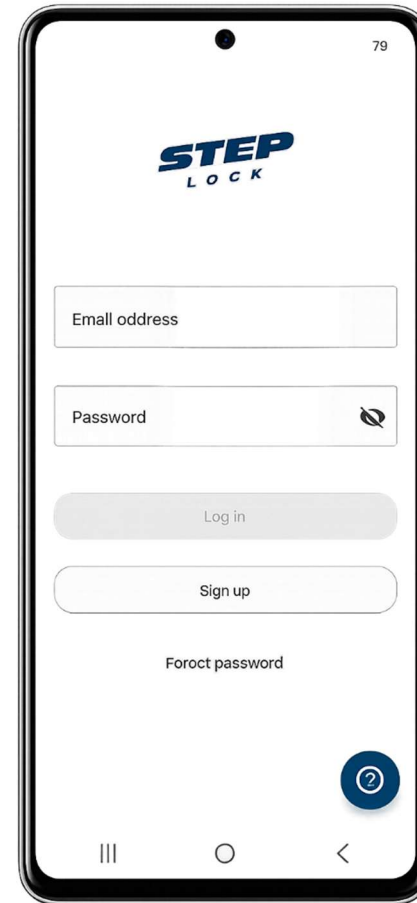

Download the StepLock Lite app from the App Store or Google Play.

Now you are on the home page. It will be empty here until you are invited to a system.

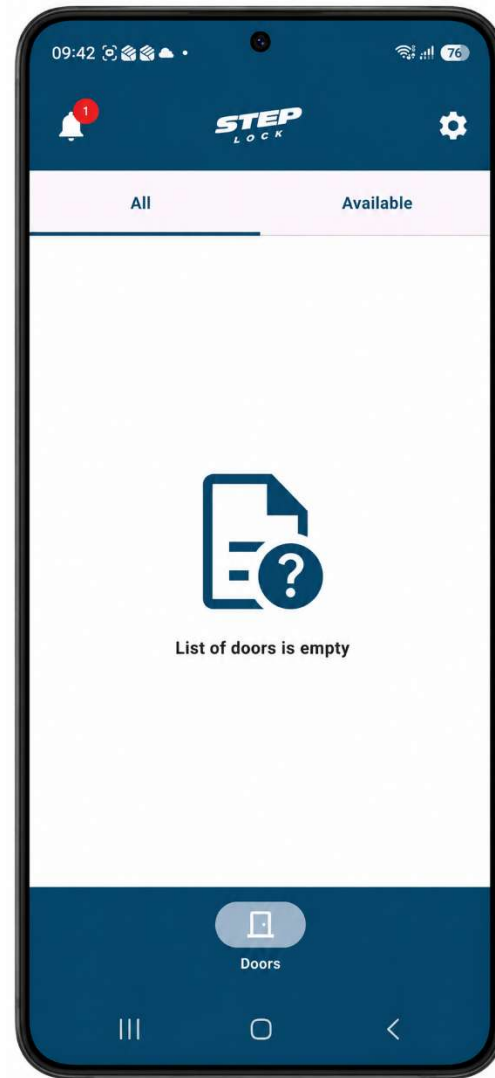

You can be invited to several different systems with the same account and have everything gathered in one place.

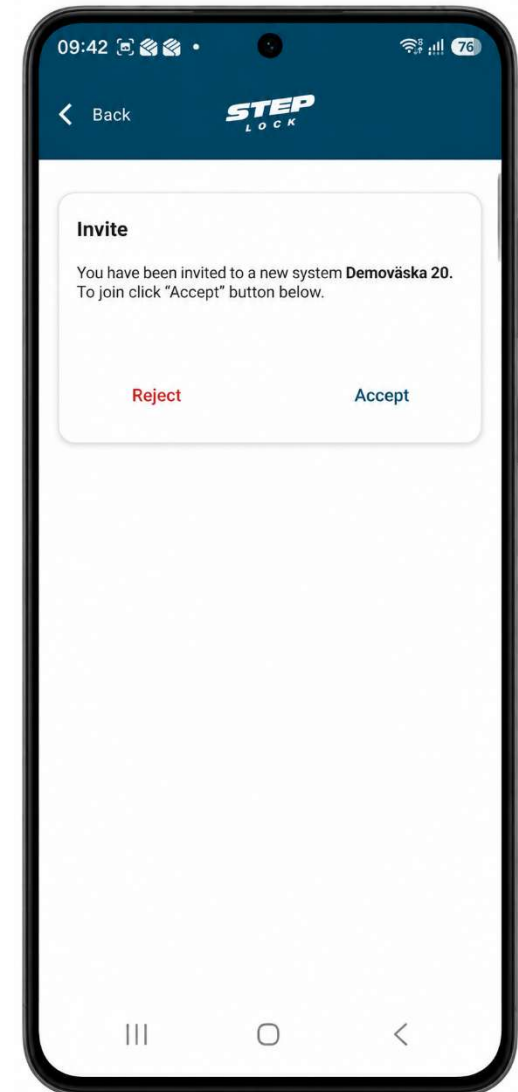

Once you have been invited to a system, you will receive a notification that will appear as a red mark on the doorbell.

Click on the doorbell to open the invitation and accept it.

When you go back to the home page, you will see the doors you have been given permission to.

The "Available" menu shows the doors that are near you and that your phone connects with via Bluetooth.

Press the padlock to unlock the door.

Press and hold the padlock to be able to put the door in the unlocked or locked position.
